

I listen to XM radio in my car and at home. I depend on XM's new weather and traffic channels prior to going in my car and while driving. Their traffic reports are more accurate and better organized than the reports from other local radio stations. Whenever I hit a heavy traffic spot on the road, I switch over to XM's traffic channel and I always find out what the problem is. This enables me to take an alternate route for my trip and to get to where I am going faster and less stressed. Their weather reports are more accurate than the other local radio stations and I am very happy with the whole content. Please do not take it away from me.

Thank you
